

Kittywalk® T-Connect (Models #KWCON 1 & #KWCON 2) Assembly Instructions

Before You Begin:

- Remove T-Connector from box and plastic bag.
- Discard plastic bag.
- Identify components with Parts list.

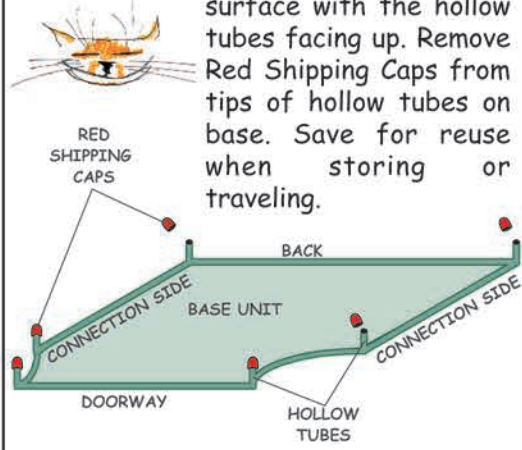

Parts List

- Qty: 1 Door
- Qty: 25 Snaps
- Qty: 1 Paracord
- Qty: 4 Turning Clasps

- Qty: 6 Red Shipping Caps
- Qty: 1 T-Connector Net Unit
- Qty: 1 T-Connector Base Unit
- Qty: 1 swatch of netting for repairs

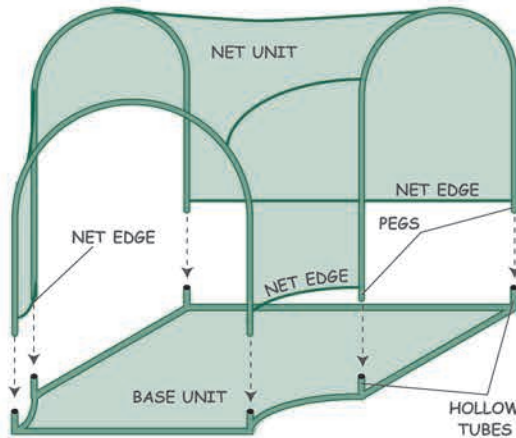

Step 1

Lay base unit on a flat surface with the hollow tubes facing up. Remove Red Shipping Caps from tips of hollow tubes on base. Save for reuse when storing or traveling.

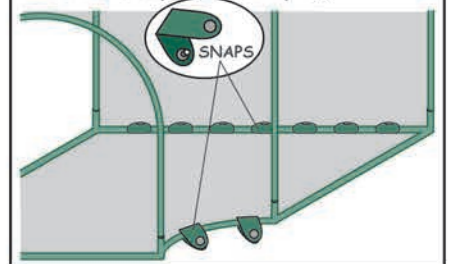

Step 2

Insert pegs of net unit into corresponding hollow tubes on base unit.

Step 3

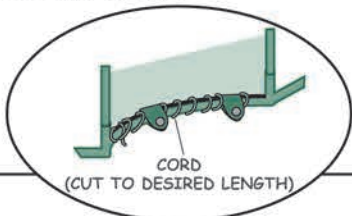

Attach supplied snaps to wherever the bottom edge of the netting meets the metal frame of the base unit. Snaps should go through the netting, around the metal frames, and snap together on the outside of unit. (Make sure you leave at least 8 snaps for step 6)

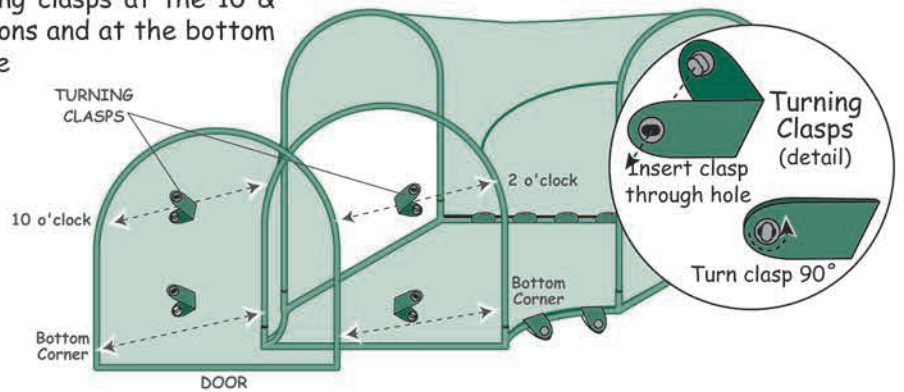

Step 4 (Optional)

For more permanent installation, you may want to reinforce the snaps with the supplied paracord.

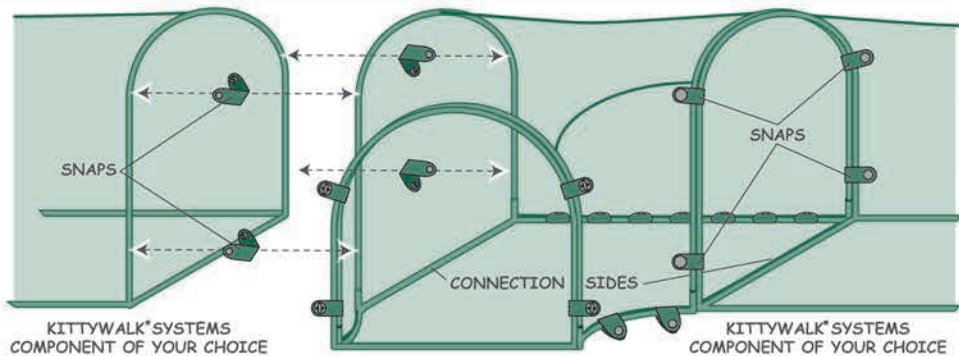

Cut the supplied cord to the desired length and use to attach the netting edge to the base unit frame.

Step 5: Slip the turning clasps through the netting around the metal frames to attach the door to the doorway. The turning mechanism should be on the outside of the unit. Place the turning clasps at the 10 & 2 o'clock positions and at the bottom corners on the doorway.

Step 6 Use the left over snaps to attach the T-Connector to the Kittywalk® Systems Components of your choice. Snaps should go the netting, around the metal frames, and snap together on the outside of unit. Like the Turning Clasps, they should be placed at the 10 & 2 o'clock positions, and at the bottom corners of the connection edges.

! Important ! (PRECAUTIONS & DISCLAIMERS)

- (1) Never leave your pet unattended or unsupervised.

- (5) Not tested for fox, coyote, dog, or other animals. Beware of unwanted visiting animals.
- (6) Not to be used by animals that chew.
- (7) This product and its packaging are not designed to be used by children.
- (8) Warranty does not cover damage caused by your pet.

Tips for Shy Cats

What happens if your pet doesn't take an immediate liking to Kittywalk® T-Connector?

Comments from the inventor, Lise King:

Sometimes customers say, "I can't seem to get my cat into my Kittywalk® T-Connector. It's afraid and won't go in willingly!" That is not an unusual reaction for a pet. To familiarize your pet with being outside of your home and inside a Kittywalk® Outdoor Pet Enclosure, follow these few simple instructions. More than likely, your pet will take to it as his own domain and will want to spend time there.

- Lay out the Kittywalk® T-Connect and its parts unassembled out on the floor so that your pet can fully inspect and get used to the Kittywalk® at its leisure.
- When your pet is comfortable around the unassembled Kittywalk® T-Connect, assemble it indoors. Make sure you leave both doors off the ends. Cats like to see what is going on, so find a space with a view of the areas of your house where there are often people.
- You can try placing treats in the Kittywalk® T-Connect and coaxing your cat in, but go slowly. If at first your pet still will not go in, try again the next day. Praise your pet when it makes advances.
- When your pet is comfortable around the assembled Kittywalk® T-Connect, assemble it outside with doors at each end. Never leave your pet unattended outdoors in any Kittywalk® enclosure product.
- Remember to remove your cats' collar whenever it is in any Kittywalk® enclosure product. The tags could get caught in the netting.
- Your cats' claws should be trimmed if they are going to use the Kittywalk® T-Connect or any other Kittywalk® product.
